

RESOURCE1 ACQUIRES CARNEGIE AFFILIATES

IT staffing and search firms join forces to expand services to clients in New York-metro area

PARSIPPANY, NJ- January 1, 2018—Resource1, a leading national provider of Talent Acquisition and executive search services, today announced that it has acquired Carnegie Affiliates, a boutique IT search firm specializing in permanent staffing solutions in the New York-metro region.

Resource1, a wholly owned subsidiary of technology solutions provider Micro Strategies, Inc., and Carnegie are both based in Parsippany.

Resource1 acquired the 40-year-old Carnegie because of its well-established client base and strong reputation for providing high-quality technical talent to companies in the New York metropolitan area. Carnegie has over 80 years of staffing experience and is well known for their personalized hands-on approach and unique methodology for recruiting IT talent.

Mark Vallario, Resource1's Vice President of Staffing Operations, commented: "The completion of the Carnegie acquisition fits squarely into our strategic growth plans. Carnegie's outstanding reputation, extensive market experience, and deep commitment to representing best-of-breed candidates allows our combined group to offer the highest level of staffing support to our clients."

Larry Wagner, Carnegie's founder and president, added: "We are very excited about joining forces with Resource1. The integration of our firms perfectly complements each other, as both share the same philosophy, methodology and vision on how to best partner with our existing clients and expand our services to emerging growth firms. "
